

COURT VINDICATES JOE DEL BECCARO

Ex-Policeman Is Acquitted of Viagrancy Charge; Charge Framed.

Joe Del Beccaro, at one time a member of the Tulsa police department, and now engaged in business in this city in the oil industry, recently arrested on an alleged manufactured charge of vagrancy, was yesterday morning in police court, was found not guilty after more than an hour devoted to examination of witnesses and arguments by attorneys for the defense and prosecution.

The verdict was a vindication for the ex-officer and a defeat for an element in the police department which is alleged to have had as its objective the "jubilation" of Del Beccaro, one of the most efficient officers under a past administration.

Immediately upon the announcement that the defendant had been found not guilty, more than a score of oil operators and others who had taken an interest in the case gathered around the defendant and congratulated him on the vindication which had come with the decision of the municipal judges.

A dozen witnesses were called by the defense, some of them

PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, the United States is now in need of adequate trained forces for its army, and

Whereas, under the act of congress, becoming effective July 1, 1916, the state of Oklahoma is required to have in its national guard a force of eight thousand men within two years.

Whereas, Tulsa is fully able to contribute two companies of infantry, one troop of cavalry and one battery of artillery to the service.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as the mayor of the city of Tulsa, I do call a general meeting of the citizens of Tulsa to be held in Convention hall at 8 o'clock p.m. next Tuesday, June 27, and call upon all patriotic citizens of Tulsa to attend this meeting for the purpose of effecting these organizations.

And, further, appeal to the patriotism of the young men of Tulsa and entreat them to join these organizations.

In behalf of the city of Tulsa I hereby extend an invitation to all residents of Tulsa county to attend and participate in this meeting.

(Signed) J. H. SIMMONS.

Mayor.

Tuesday night at Convention hall there will be a mass meeting of the citizens of Tulsa for the purpose of stimulating interest in the organization of three additional military organizations to take the place of the company of infantry already recruited and which by this date will have been organized and probably on their way to the Mexican border.

We will hold a meeting that will register a fever of patriotism right up around the 100 mark," said Mayor Simmons as he placed his name to the above proclamation calling on the citizens of Tulsa and the surrounding country to attend this meeting.

"It is a duty every man owes his country to prepare for the call when it comes. We should maintain the regulation we have adopted for being the foremost city of our size in the whole country. The men of Tulsa are the organization of a company of 75 men in less than one day will long stand as a record. But these men are not the only ones who can be counted on to answer the call to arms when their country needs them," the mayor continued.

"We expect one of the largest meetings of its kind that has ever been held in the state of Oklahoma. The spirit of Tulsa will predominate. Tulsa will answer the call. The convention hall should be packed to the S. O. sign."

Prominent Speakers on Program.

Mayor Simmons announced that a number of prominent speakers had agreed to speak and that a regular dress-up-the-wool patriotic meeting would be the result.

When asked about the recruiting of an infantry company, he announced many men, some of previous service, said they would prefer to enlist in organizations of other branches of military service. Some of them to enlist in an artillery battery and more than a score wished to join a cavalry troop. "It is for this purpose, as well as to recruit up another company of infantry, that the meeting Tuesday night will be called."

One of the features of the patriotic meeting is the attendance of all military organizations of Tulsa, including the Spanish War veterans, the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Tulsa post of the Confederate War Veterans, the Women's Relief Corps and the Women's Auxiliary of other military organizations. A band has been secured for the occasion and every arrangement is being made which guarantees the success of the meeting and result in the recruitments of new organizations.
